Stakeholder Survey Results

As part of our strategic planning process, a stakeholder survey was conducted to gather input from key individuals connected to the Communities of Coastal Georgia Foundation, including fundholders, nonprofit representatives, board members, and community members. This survey was designed to capture insights on how the Foundation is perceived, identify areas for improvement, and explore opportunities for growth.

The feedback received is critical in helping us align our strategic priorities with the needs and expectations of our stakeholders. It provides a clearer understanding of our internal strengths and challenges, as well as external opportunities and threats that may impact our future direction. The data in this report can serve as the groundwork for the board's discussions on refining our strategies and enhancing our impact.

This report summarizes key findings from all questions on the survey, including quantitative data and qualitative insights. We have also highlighted recommendations based on these findings, which will be discussed further during our upcoming board meeting.

We look forward to reviewing this information with you and working together to ensure that the Foundation continues to serve the community effectively and responsibly.

METHODOLOGY

The stakeholder survey was conducted to gather comprehensive feedback from key individuals and groups connected to the Foundation. This section outlines the process used to design, distribute, and analyze the survey.

The survey was developed to ensure that it captured a broad range of perspectives across various aspects of the Foundation's work, including internal operations, external impact, and future opportunities. It included a mix of quantitative questions (using a Likert scale) and open-ended questions to allow respondents to provide detailed feedback.

The survey was distributed via Google forms to fundholders, nonprofit representatives, board members, and community members. The survey was open for ten days. Responses were analyzed using both statistical methods and qualitative coding for recurring themes.

Respondents were able to self-identify their roles with the Foundation on the survey. A total of 46 individuals completed the survey, 12 of whom completed responses for two roles, for a total of 58 responses across the specific role categories. The response rates are charted below.

| Category | Total Surveys Sent | Total Responses | Overall Response Rate | Category-Specific Response Rate |
|------------------|--------------------|-----------------|-----------------------|---------------------------------|
| Board Member | 19 | 10 | 0.6% | 52.6% |
| Fundholder | 72 | 10 | 0.6% | 13.9% |
| Nonprofit Rep | 212 | 19 | 1.15% | 8.9% |
| Community Member | 1353 | 19 | 1.15% | 1.4% |
| Total | 1656 | 58 | 3.5% | |

Stakeholder Respondents:

As part of our follow-up to the stakeholder survey, a select group of respondents was contacted for more in-depth conversations. These phone calls allowed us to clarify some of the feedback provided in the survey and gather additional insights that may not have been fully captured in written responses. By speaking directly with key stakeholders, we can better understand the nuances behind their perspectives and gain a deeper appreciation of their concerns, suggestions, and ideas. These conversations help ensure that the feedback we received is accurately interpreted and can be effectively incorporated into our strategic planning process, allowing us to make more informed decisions and address stakeholder needs more thoroughly.

KEY FINDINGS

The following sections present the insights gathered from the stakeholder survey. These key findings reflect the collective feedback from respondents across various stakeholder groups. The data provides valuable insights into the Foundation's current strengths, challenges, and opportunities for growth.

The survey results have been organized according to the flow of questions on the survey, including internal organizational performance, external opportunities and threats, stakeholder role specific engagement, and future strategic priorities. Quantitative data has been supplemented with qualitative responses to provide a more comprehensive understanding of stakeholder perceptions.

Headline Findings:

- 87% feel the Foundation is currently meeting its mission well or very well, 13% neutral.
- 84.8% are satisfied or very satisfied with the current state of the Foundation, 15.2% neutral.
- 100% of fundholders would recommend CCGF to others.

What internal improvements could make the Foundation more effective?

*24 responded that either no improvements needed to be made or they did not have enough information to provide suggestions.

EXTERNAL ENVIRONMENT – 46 responses

This section addresses the external factors that may impact the Foundation, including trends, opportunities, and challenges in the broader community and nonprofit landscape. The survey gathered stakeholder perspectives on how well the Foundation is responding to these external forces and what potential risks or opportunities lie ahead.

From shifts in funding patterns to emerging community needs, these external insights are critical for shaping our strategic direction. Understanding the landscape in which we operate will allow us to adapt effectively, leverage new opportunities, and mitigate potential threats. The following key findings provide a look at how stakeholders view the external environment and its influence on the Foundation’s future success.

Which external trends do you believe will have the most significant impact on the Foundation over the next 3-5 years? (Respondents could select up to 3)

- 1. Economic conditions (local shifts, economic downturns, income disparity) – 78.3%
- 2. Funding trends (change in donor preferences, increased competition for funding) – 60.9%
- 3. Political or regulatory changes (tax policy, new laws or regulations, social services funding) – 45.7%
- 4. Social or cultural trends (changing demographics, focus on equity and inclusion) – 37%
- 5. Environmental factors (climate change, sustainability initiatives) – 26%
- 6. Public Health trends (pandemics, mental health recognition) – 19.6%
- 7. Technological advancements (automation and AI, digital impact, cybersecurity risks) – 8.7%

How well does the Foundation currently respond to changes in the external environment?

46 responses

What external opportunities should the Foundation explore?

Select direct responses:

- “Adverse impact of rising sea levels to coastal communities.”
- “Policy advocacy. Maybe start to work with more of the local governments to influence policies that support sustainable development in the region.”
- “As a retired healthcare professional, I believe that mental health (availability and affordability) is a major concern for our region.”
- “Partner with management teams to train and support local organizations. Assist with developing strong boards for them.”
- “Engaging and connecting local nonprofits to combine efforts to not duplicate services. Coordinating and organizing a larger ask of a foundation or governmental funder.”
- “Support for innovative development policies and tax incentives to improve quality of life and environmental justice, including preparation of policy proposals for review by state legislative study committees.”
- “Broadening our geographic footprint”

What external threats should the Foundation be aware of?

Select direct responses:

- “Other areas that yield higher dividends for funds”
- “Too few African American leaders to support boards.”
- “In harder economic times, smaller nonprofits are struggling and the need is greater.”
- “The current volunteer and donor community is aging, and there will be a void in leadership if the next generation does not become engaged in giving and volunteer leadership. Established charitable organizations may dissolve without a succession plan for leadership and funds for long term sustainability.”
- “Foundation being viewed as political. The foundation being viewed as only interested in "it's own image" not as a community uniter.”
- “the population increase predicted for our area”
- “Technology - security breaches - becoming associated with issues that may be considered political”

FUNDHOLDERS – 10 responses

- “Be inclusive with diverse partners and perhaps consider expanding your 'region'.”
- “More emphasis on implementation and follow-up, with public reports on outcomes, problems.”
- “Great and powerful entity need to leverage resources to get them to frontline and equity should be clearly understood by everyone in organization”

RECOMMENDATIONS

Based on the insights gathered from the stakeholder survey, there are several key areas where the Foundation can strengthen its impact and align more closely with the needs and expectations of our community. These recommendations are informed by the feedback provided by fundholders, nonprofit representative, board members, and community members. They reflect both opportunities for growth and areas where we can refine our approach to better serve our mission.

The recommendations highlighted below are intended to guide the Foundation’s strategic planning efforts for the coming year, focusing on improving internal operations, deepening stakeholder engagement, and exploring new opportunities for collaboration. These suggestions aim to start conversations with the board to ensure that the Foundation remains responsive, forward-thinking, and well-positioned to navigate the challenges and opportunities ahead.

Recommendations:

1. Increase staff capacity
2. Improve communication both internally and externally
3. Expand engagement opportunities for stakeholders
4. Advance donor stewardship and recruitment efforts
5. Facilitate ongoing strategic planning efforts and alignment
6. Implement leadership training and development for staff and board

Stakeholder Feedback Summaries

Hillary Stringfellow: Advocated for a clearer mission, emphasized the Foundation's role in empowering philanthropy over programming, and urged a kickoff mindset for a yearlong strategic process. Highlighted board unification and need for incremental planning with shared leadership.

Kim Bednarek: Expressed the need for greater staff capacity and operational support for fund development. Stressed partnership expansion into Southeast Georgia and emphasized CCGF's potential to empower conservation efforts and strategic partnerships.

Cary Greenfield: Appreciated improvements in the grant process but emphasized a desire to be seen and heard as a nonprofit partner. Stressed the importance of trust-building and follow-through in board and staff engagement.

Jack Kilgore: Highlighted strategic growth opportunities beyond tri-county areas and stressed improving board engagement through more rigorous recruitment. Called for a highly participatory and impactful final plan.

Don Myers: Encouraged clearer board accountability within the plan, noting that some goals—especially around financial sustainability—may feel overly ambitious or staff-driven. Recommended revising the language to motivate action and including a "cheat sheet" to help board members connect to strategic priorities.

Frances Zwenig: Noted changing giving patterns due to financial planning and recommended improved communication beyond donation requests. Suggested CCGF highlight legacy and maintenance project successes to appeal to community institutions.

Johnny Bailey: Requested continued outreach and communication. Valued literacy-focused grants and inclusive programming. Recommended CCGF lean into legacy and community ties.

Greer Brown: Emphasized the role of financial advisors in referrals and suggested deeper connections with estate planners. Supported the Foundation's positioning as an administrative partner for smaller funds.

Hank Linginfelter: Called for the Foundation to adopt a more visible, advocacy-oriented presence in the region. Suggested CCGF act as a convener and an engine for social progress, especially in underrepresented communities like Brunswick.

Ben Slade: Encouraged continued leadership in literacy while supporting the Foundation's convening role. Supported the CEO Roundtable as a strong vehicle for leadership development.

CCGF Strategic Plan Launch Plan & Monitoring Framework

Purpose: To effectively introduce the strategic plan, engage stakeholders, and ensure clear, consistent communication throughout implementation.

1. Goals and Objectives

- Awareness: Ensure all stakeholders understand the strategic priorities and their roles.
- Engagement: Foster excitement and commitment to the strategic direction.
- Consistency: Maintain unified messaging across all communication efforts.
- Sustainability: Provide ongoing updates and opportunities for involvement.

2. Key Audiences

Internal:

- Board members
- Staff and volunteers

External:

- Donors and funders
- Community partners
- Beneficiaries and clients
- Media and general public

3. Core Messaging

- Vision & Mission: Reinforcing alignment with the strategic plan.
- Key Priorities: Overview of strategic goals and anticipated impact.
- Stakeholder Role: How individuals can contribute to success.
- Call to Action: Engagement opportunities for various audiences.

4. Phases & Timeline

Phase 1: Pre-Launch (1 month before announcement)

- Develop communication materials (one-page, pamphlet).
- Conduct internal briefings with staff and board.
- Identify key champions to advocate for the plan.
- Teaser campaigns via internal channels (emails, social media).

Phase 2: Official Launch (Month 1)

- Distribute press releases and social media announcements.
- Publish website updates and a dedicated strategic plan webpage.
- Engage stakeholders via personalized outreach.

Phase 3: Post-Launch Engagement (Months 2-6)

- Regular updates via newsletters, social media, and community forums.
- Mention at meetings and workshops for deeper engagement.
- Collect feedback through surveys and informal discussions.
- Share early success stories and milestones.

Phase 4: Ongoing Communication (Beyond 6 months)

- Quarterly progress updates via reports and presentations.
- Recognition of contributors and achievements.
- Continuous adaptation of messaging based on stakeholder feedback.
- Quarterly review of KPIs, update as needed.

5. Communication Channels

Internal Channels:

- Staff meetings
- Board meetings
- Email communication

External Channels:

- Website updates and blog posts
- Social media campaigns (Facebook, LinkedIn, Instagram)
- Press releases and media engagement
- Community forums and speaking engagements
- Direct outreach (emails, calls, donor meetings)

6. Roles and Responsibilities

| Role | Responsibilities |
|----------------------|---|
| Executive Leadership | Oversight, key messaging approval, stakeholder meetings |
| Board Members | Advocacy and outreach within their networks |
| Staff | Content creation, distribution, media relations day-to-day communication and stakeholder engagement |

Monitoring Framework

A. Monitoring Objectives

- Track progress toward strategic goals
- Identify areas for improvement
- Ensure accountability across stakeholders

B. Data Collection Methods

- Quarterly progress reports
- Surveys and interviews
- Financial and operational dashboards

C. Reporting Structure

- Frequency: Monthly check-ins, quarterly updates, annual reports
- Audience: Board, staff, donors, community stakeholders
- Format: Dashboard summaries, written reports, presentations

D. Accountability & Responsibilities

- Leadership: Oversight and strategic adjustments
- Staff: Data collection and implementation
- Board: Governance and high-level review

E. Course Correction Mechanisms

- Annual review meetings to analyze gaps and trends
- Adjust strategies based on data insights
- Continuous stakeholder engagement for feedback

Recommendations for Implementation Success:

1. Activate Board Engagement:

- Share a "Strategic Plan Playbook" with all board members outlining key goals and how they can directly support them.
- Include strategic plan check-ins as a standing item at board meetings.
- Empower board champions for each strategic priority to lead peer accountability.

2. Support Staff with Capacity and Clarity:

- Align staffing structure and professional development with the scope of goals.
- Continue evaluating team capacity in line with asset and fundholder growth targets.

3. Monitor Progress with Transparency:

- Use a shared KPI dashboard to update staff, board, and stakeholders on a quarterly basis.
- Establish annual strategic review sessions to assess progress, identify challenges, and adjust approaches as needed.

4. Communicate Broadly and Often:

- Develop a communication plan to celebrate wins, highlight impact, and keep stakeholders informed and inspired.
- Reinforce the Foundation's identity as a connector, convener, and catalyst in Coastal Georgia.

It has been an honor to guide this process. The CCGF team is exceptionally well-positioned for this next phase. I believe your strategy is sound, your priorities are focused, and your leadership is clearly committed. I encourage you to see this plan not as a finish line, but a launchpad. With continued collaboration, clear communication, and shared ownership, the next five years hold extraordinary potential.

Thank you for the opportunity to walk alongside you in this meaningful work. It aligns with CCGF's legacy of trust and innovation while setting a high bar for community impact.
